Dr. Olive Swezy Backs Demo. Women In Criticism of America Firsters; Says "Under Cover" Valuable Book

In last week's Pine Cone Hal Garrott, staunch Republican, came to the defense of the Carmel Democratic Women's Club with a letter in answer to Louise Rice-Carter's criticism of a member's review of "Under Cover" in which fascist activities were attributed to the America First Organization. This week, Dr. Olive Swezy also comes to the support of the Democratic Women in the following article:

By Dr. Olive Swezy

One of the most notable—and valuable—books of this year, "Under Cover," strips the American flag from the group of native fascists who had been using it to cover up un-American activities, and thus performs a service for which true Americans should be grateful. The recent review of this book by Mrs. Low for the Women's Democratic Club was a highly meritorious and patriotic contribution to the war effort, no less.

One of the groups exposed by this book is the America Firsters. Like all such movements, there were innocent members in this group who swallowed the patriotic nonsense without critically analyzing the activities going on behind it, and who firmly believed its leaders were motivated solely by "unimpeachable integrity—and of love of their country." Nor has the history of recent months opened their eyes. They still bewail the fact that we were "forced into this dreadful war," apparently by those who refused to follow the America Firsters. It is evident that Louise Rice-Carter is one of these innocent ones and quite naturally she recoils with horror from the expose contained in this "highly seditious—and scurrilous publication."

It should be pointed out in this connection, however, that knowledge of the libel laws of this country clearly suggests that this book is neither seditious nor filled with falsehoods. Were that the case, certain members of Congress and others would even now be collecting large amounts in libel suits. No publisher would dare print a book involving the names and reputations of so many living men without being convinced by factual proofs of its trustworthiness. The resulting libel suits would take his last copper! To date no libel suits have been filed. This alone is one of the most convincing proofs of the truths contained in "Under Cover." Had Louise Rice-Carter known these simple facts, it is quite unlikely that she would have used such language concerning this book, and the women of the Democratic Club. It was most emphatically not necessary for them to "prove" the book was truthful, for the application of our libel laws does this beyond peradventure.

That this book gives a truthful picture of the America First of the past, is also suggested by certain signs which point to the rise of the party from its ashes. It was reported — in a Republican newspaper!—that the new America First party, headed by Landon and Hoover, would again make America First its slogan, repudiating the Moscow Conference and all which has followed that historic meeting, including a world federation, and devote their efforts to making American imperialism the dominant theme of the future. If anyone believes this is not fascism pure and simple, the fascism against which American boys are now fighting, and that such planning is not laying the foundation for World War III, then he is either naive or fascist-minded himself.

The long list of American Firsters, prominent in society, business and even the government, means only that there are many men who would like to see the U.S.A. ruled by fascist methods and hope to bring that about by secret agreements and "under cover" manipulations. No one accuses them of not wanting to do something for their country: what they are accused of is trying to make of that country and its way of life something which is abhorrent to the majority of its citizens. This is still a country which is ruled by the will of the majority.

New Wellman Book Out This Spring

To be published this spring or summer is "Psychic Mysteries" by Whit Wellman of Carmel Highlands, according to a wire received on Wednesday from Frederick Fell, Inc., New York publishing house.

The product of considerable research and a number of personal experiences, the book is an objective, factual account of some 20 of the more famous psychical experiments—from the work of Sir William Crookes to Margery Crandon of Boston.

A number of the chapters have recently appeared in national magazines.

Honor Awarded Posthumously to Brig. Gen. Powell

Mrs. Blanche M. Powell, widow of the late Brigadier General William D. Powell, who died while on active duty with the United States forces in China on October 4, received notice Wednesday that he had been awarded posthumously the Legion of Merit.

The notice came by letter from the Adjutant General's office in Washington, D.C. and stated "I have the honor to inform you that, by direction of the President, the Legion of Merit has been posthumously awarded to your husband, Brigadier General William D. Powell, Infantry, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service."

The letter continued with the information that the decoration will be forwarded to the Commanding General at Fort Douglas, Utah, who will make arrangements for the formal presentation of the decoration to Mrs. Powell.

Brig. Gen. Powell, brought his family here in 1940 and established a home for them in Hatton Fields when he joined Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's staff at the Presidio. Immediately after the Pearl Harbor attack he left with Stilwell for service in the Orient.

There are three children, Rosemary, attending San Jose State college, Betty, a senior at Carmel high school, and Billy, a student at Sunset. Mrs. Powell received the notice of the honor awarded her husband on her birthday and the twentieth anniversary of her marriage.

Macdonald Tells Of New Oriental Print Society

Augustin S. Macdonald, president of the recently established Oriental Print Society at Mills College, in Carmel from Oakland for the Christmas holidays, gave the Pine Cone-Cymbal an enthusiastic account of the new organization, the first of its kind on the Pacific slope, though there are several in the large cities on the east coast.

The founding of the society whose purpose is to study, collect and exhibit art from the various countries of the Orient, is especially timely, Macdonald believes, as our association with the Orient following the war will be closer than ever before, politically and economically, and an understanding and appreciation of their culture will make possible a greater understanding of the people and smooth the way for our contacts with them. This is especially true of Japan from whom many of the modernists such as Cezanne, Van Gogh, Gaugin, Matisse, including our American Whistler, have acknowledged their inspiration.

"Much attention has been given to the importance of the political progress and commercial advantages to be gained with peace without recognizing the cultural traditions of the oriental countries," Macdonald said. "Mills is the only college that has a department of Oriental Art on the west coast, yet here one would expect to find a greater interest in the subject than elsewhere in the United States."

He deplored the tendency of

Weathermen Back On Job; Rain Finally Up to Schedule

This week the weathermen got their minds off the radio broadcasts of war news long enough to attend to business and rainfall figures for this fall finally caught up with those of last year. Over two inches of rain, 2.52, produced by this week's storm turned the trick.

The total rainfall in Carmel for the season up to Thursday morning is 4.41 inches according to Professor Francis E. Lloyd. Last year's total up to December 30 was 4.23, so that people who have ben going around saying, "my goodness what a dry year we are having," can stop worrying now.

Total precipitation for last rainy season, fall of winter of 1942, winter and spring of 1943 was 18.35.

Need World Fear Russia Topic for First Forum Talk

The United States in a World at War is the theme for the series of lectures which will be held under the auspices of the Carmel Adult School. The opening date is set for Tuesday evening, January 25, when Dr. Hubert Phillips, well known authority on international problems, will discuss Need the World Fear Soviet Russia?

Estela Romauldez Sulit, Filipino attorney, speaks on The Problem of the Philippines on February 22; from the University of California comes Dr. N. Wing Mah, a member of the Department of Political Science, who will discuss The Pacific and China, and March 7th, Dr. Malcolm Davisson speaks on Postwar Readjustments in California.

There will be four additional speakers, to be announced at an early date. As in the past, the metings will be held at Sunset School. A registration fee of one dollar for the entire series of eight lectures will be charged. Reservations may be made by mail to P. O. Box 600, or by calling the office of the Adult School at Sunset between the hours of 9-12 a.m. and 7-9 p.m.

Kinsell Makes Gift To Post Office and Carmel in General

A gift addressed to "Uncle Sam and the Carmel Post Office" which will be gratefully enjoyed by the entire population of Carmel was presented to Postmaster Fred Bechdolt yesterday by Judge Dudley Kinsell.

The gift, a box of pen points, bore the judge's personal card with the message "Here's wishing your patrons a happier New Year."

Asked to make a statement to the Pine Cone-Cymbal on what inspired him to make the gift (as if anybody couldn't guess) Judge Kinsell said: "I can't write with those post office pens. Nobody can. Why are banks and post offices so economical with pen points, anyway?"

Postmaster Fred Bechdolt delivered himself for publication as follows:"I've often wondered about that myself."

John Nye Next War Prisoner To Return Home

John Nye is sure to be on the next exchange ship, a Gripsholm passenger assured Nye's parents at Prescott, Arizona, when he stopped there on his way to California with news of the former Carmelite who is now interned in a Japanese prison camp at Shanghai. Nye was assistant manager of the British American Tobacco Company in Shanghai at the outbreak of the war.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nye, the former at one-time assistant postmaster of Carmel, wrote friends here this week telling of the word they had received of their son from the Gripsholm passenger who had been interned with him at the Shanghai camp since last February. He told them that Nye was among the seventy prisoners slated for exchange who had remained behind because of lack of space on the Gripsholm. He said that Nye was well, but not too well fed; that the British American Tobacco Company employees who had been exchanged left what food they had for the employees who had remained behind; that friends of those interned are allowed to bring them twenty pounds of food a month.

The Nyes, in their letter to friends here, wrote that they had received word that their son, Paul, who is in the Navy, had been wounded but they had no details as to the seriousness of his injuries. Another son, Douglas (Bill), a Sergeant in the Army, who saw service in the Aleutians, is now in a hospital in Kentucky where he is recovering from an operation.

Godwin Checks on Mosquito Plague; Rain Brings Relief

Relief from mosquitoes, both in the Mission Tract and in Eighty Acres is virtually assured by the rains, Fred Godwin, Commissioner of Health and Safety, said yesterday following a conversation with E. E. Bivins, county sanitary inspector.

Heavy rains opening the Carmel river bar are draining the backwashes and swamps below the Mission washing out the mosquito larvae. The rains will have the same effect in Eighty Acres, draining the gulley which in dry years becomes a mosquito breeding place, Bivins told Godwin. If the desired result is not achieved by the rains in the Eighty Acres, Godwin said that the pools in the gulley will be oiled, probably by the county health department. He will see to it that everything is done that is necessary for mosquito control.

Godwin called upon Bivins immediately after it was brought to his attention last week that mosquitoes which had confined their activities so far this year to the Mission Tract outside the city limits had invaded Eighty Acres which is under the jurisdiction of his department.

PAPER COLLECTORS

Those who have salvage paper to contribute to the school paper drive and wish someone to call and collect should phone Carmel high school 1343 starting Monday.

Neil Bosworth

Neil Bosworth, well known in Carmel since he established a home here thirteen years ago, died on the morning of Tuesday, December 28, at his ranch near St. Helena. Although death followed a brief acute illness, he had been in poor health for several years.

A native of Elgin, Illinois, he retired from the banking business there in 1930 and came with his family to make a permanent home in Carmel, where he and Mrs. Bosworth had spent many holidays previously. A year and a half ago Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth moved temporarily to their Napa county ranch.

In addition to his widow, Mrs. Ethel Lloyd Bosworth, he is survived by four daughters and seven grandchildren: Mrs. Laidlaw Williams, Alice and Laidlaw Williams, Jr., of Carmel; Mrs. Robert Seward, Nancy and Susannah Seward, of Lewiston, Maine; Mrs. William Henry Black, Erin, Deborah and Hillary Black of Vancouver, B.C.; and Mrs. Gurdon Mooser of Seattle, Washington. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Alfred Bosworth of Elgin, Illinois, a brother and four sisters: Mr. Roland I. Bosworth of Elgin; Mrs. William A. Levering of Glencoe, Ill.; Miss Louise Bosworth of Washington, Connecticut; Mrs. Jerome I. H. Downes of Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts; and Mrs. John Yates McDonald of Charles Town, West Virginia.

Funeral services and interment will take place in Elgin, Illinois. Mrs. Gurdon Mooser will accompany Mrs. Bosworth east.

Henrietta Jordan

Henrietta Jordan, wife of Mr. Fred Jordan, died at their Oakland home on Friday, December 17, following a long illness.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jordan were frequent visitors to Carmel over a long period of years as guests of Mr. Jordan's brother, the late John B. Jordan.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Jordan is survived by a nephew, Mr. Jack Jordan.

Gallic Touch at Carmel Playhouse In Next Two Films

Directed by a Frenchman and lifted bodily by Hollywood from the French film masterpiece, "Un Carnet du Bal," the picture starting tonight at Carmel Playhouse, "Lydia," is a romance-drama of taste and charm, humor and pathos. Merle Oberon's performance in the name part surpasses, in its enchanting vitality her characterization in "Wuthering Heights," directed by another Frenchman, William Wyler.

The supporting cast in "Lydia" presents a flawless background for the tempestuous life-story of the heroine. It includes John Halliday, the late Edna May Oliver, Joseph Cotten, Alan Marshal, Hans Yaray and Sara Allgood. This picture, romantic drama at its adult best, is not for children. (The Playhouse management adds that it is not one for the smart-aleck type of adolescent, either). It was directed by Jules Duvivier, who also directed the above-mentioned French film, and he has endowed it with the same outstanding qualities that distinguished the latter. "Un Carnet du Bal" was shown at the Playhouse about five years ago, in French with English screen-titles and those who saw it will be amazed that Hollywood could duplicate it so effectively without somewhere along the line giving "credit" to the original.

The next mid-week picture, starting Tuesday, will be the novel and amusing "I Married a Witch," with Veronica Lake, Fredric March and Cecil Kellaway. The latter, as the sorcerer-father of the elusive and tantalizing Veronica, very near steals the show. The film is cinema fantasy raised to the nth degree. Here again is a famous French director, Rene Clair, one of whose superb originals, "Under the Roofs of Paris," was presented by the Playhouse in pre-war days.

Both Duvivier and Rene Clair are refugees from nazi-occupied France and hope to resume film-making in their own country in the bye-and-bye. Meanwhile, Hollywood is making the most of their expert talents.

Cigarette Smoker No Longer First Villain

The general public which heretofore has been the villain in the piece entitled "Destruction by Forest Fire" or "Why Are People So Careless?" came in for a pat on the head this year in S. A. Nash-Boulden's report on the Los Padre National Forest fire record for the calendar year of 1943.

Nash-Boulden, Forest Supervisor, reported 26 fires within the exterior boundaries of the forest, with an area of 1863½ acres burned. A break down as to causes of fires and acreage of each show:

2 debris burning, 46 acres; 11 smokers, 102 acres; 1 airplane crash, ¼ acre; 5 army artillery firing 1711 acres; 3 burning buildings, 0 acre; 2 railroad, 3¼ acres; 1 lightning, 1 acre; 1 garbage dump—spontaneous combustion, 0 acre.

"This is considered an excellent record," Nash-Boulden said. "Credit for it goes to the general public traveling through or going into this National Forest, for their corefulness and observance of fire regulations."

Florence Silva

Mrs. Florence Silva, 64, widow of the late Fred Silva, who made her home in Carmel with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Patterson, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, December 29, from a heart attack.

Mrs. Silva was a native of Monterey county, a daughter of John and Mary Sousa, pioneer ranchers down the coast. With the exception of the years preceding the death of her husband, which were spent in San Francisco, she has lived much of her life on the Monterey Peninsula, where her loss will be felt by many friends.

Surviving are two sisters: Mrs. Sarah V. Cummings of San Francisco and Mrs. Steve Patterson of Carmel; a brother, Joseph Sousa of San Francisco; a nephew, Leo Cummings; and three nieces: Jessie and Marilyn Draper and Sherlie Sousa.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Dorney's Funeral Home in Monterey, where Rosary was said at 8 p.m. on Thursday. Services will be held there at 9:30 tomorrow morning, followed at 10 a.m. by a requiem mass at the Carmel Mission.

ALL SAINTS' AWARDS

At last Sunday's 11:00 a.m. service at All Saints', the Annual Award of the Rector's Medal was made, signalizing faithfulness and service on the part of its recipient. The bronze medal, a reward for one year's perfect attendance at choir rehearsals and church services, was given to Dan Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Holmes, while the silver medal for three years' attendance was presented to Robert Brown, the son of Mrs. Irma Brown.

Alice R. Comins

The death of Mrs. Alice R. Comins, which occurred early on the morning of Tuesday, December 28, in her 83rd year, at her home on Santa Lucia street, brings a sense of deep loss to this community with which she has been associated for well over a quarter of a century.

A native of Gloucester, Massachusetts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnston, she began her study of art during a girlhood spent there and in Boston and began also her collection of rare antiques, both of which were lifelong interests. She was a pupil of the artist Woodbury and exhibitions of her work have been held in Boston, in Maine, where for many years she has maintained a home at York Cliffs, and in Carmel, where she was an active member of the Carmel Art association.

With her family, she came first to California in 1887, making her home in Santa Barbara until her marriage in 1889, when she returned to live in Boston. Always a pioneer in spirit, she was attracted to Carmel many years ago, and took delight in the planning and building of her gracious home on Santa Lucia near the highway, with its stone and brick terraces, its picturesque gardens with their wide view of hills and ocean, and its garden studio where she worked with untiring energy at her painting, astonishing her friends with her open-minded study and appreciation of modern trends. In later years she built also a delightful adobe house in Carmel Valley, dividing her time between these two Carmel homes and the one at York Cliffs, Maine, from which she returned after a visit last October, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Edith J. Bird, Known and loved by a wide circle of friends with whom she kept up an unflagging correspondence, it was no uncommon practice of this energetic little woman prior to the recent gas rationing, to drive her own car on frequent cross-country trips.

With Mrs. Comins during her last brief illness were her two sisters, Mrs. Anne J. Wilson of Pasadena and Mrs. Edith J. Bird of Boston. Private services were conducted at the Paul Mortuary in Pacific Grove on Thursday afternoon by Rev. C. J. Hulsewe and special memorial services for Mrs. Comins will be incorporated in the 11:00 a.m. services at All Saints' Episcopal Church on Sunday, January 2.

Tomorrow Last Day For Brown Stamps L, M, N, P, Q in Book 3

Meat, cheese, fats, oils, butter, canned milk—brown stamps L, M, N, P and Q in Ration Book III expire tomorrow night; R valid through January 29.

Processed foods—green stamps G, H and J in Ration Book IV become valid tomorrow and run through Feb. 20. Current valid D, E and F are good through Jan. 20.

Sugar—Stamp 29 in Ration Book IV good for five pounds through Jan. 15.

Shoes—Stamp No. 18 in Ration Book I and Airplane Stamp No. 1 in Ration Book II, are valid indefinitely.

Gasoline—No. 9 coupons in A Book valid for three gallons through Jan. 21.

Warning: B and C card holders: Motorists who have the new type of "B" and "C" gasoline coupons good for five gallons of gasoline were advised by the San Francisco District Office of Price Administration to refuse to accept less than value of the coupons.

The OPA issued this warning because of reports from motorists that some dealers are refusing to deliver more than three gallons to each customer, regardless of the type of ration coupon.

The old type of supplemental coupon, of course, is only good for three gallons.

Here's how to make certain whether you have a coupon of the new type. All coupons, worth five gallons, have "B-2" or "C-2" very clearly printed on the face. However, the old type supplemental mileage coupon — worth only three gallons—has either "B" "B-1," "C" or "C-1" printed on the face.

WILGRESS FAMILY HERE

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilgress and son Oliver are here from Las Olivas, where Mr. Wilgress is an instructor in the Midland school for boys, spending the holidays with Mrs. Wilgress' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Miller.

Lyle Doolittle

Lyle Doolittle, 31, of Pacific Grove died on Monday night in a Peninsula hospital as a result of an accident which occurred at his home earlier in the evening. According to the report of the Pacific Grove police, Mr. Doolittle had arisen from his bed to investigate a sound in his garage and upon reaching the garage had suffered a heart attack. In falling, he struck his head and although an ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the hospital for treatment, he never regained consciousness.

A native of San Jose, Mr. Doolittle spent most of his life on the Monterey Peninsula. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Doolittle of Pacific Grove; his father, Leslie Doolittle of Alameda; four brothers, Harold, now serving with the army, Wallace Doolittle of Carmel, Kenneth of Monterey and Stanley of San Jose.

Joshua Emerson

Joshua Emerson, 62, a resident of Carmel for the past two years, died on Wednesday, December 22, in his home at Casanova and Ninth, following an illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson came to Carmel upon Mr. Emerson's retirement from the post of chief draughtsman of the Mare Island Navy Yard, to live quietly here after 43 years of government service at Vallejo.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mellie Emerson of Carmel; a sister, Mrs. H. W. Bogen of Glendale; and a brother, Mr. J. P. Emerson of Oakland.

Funeral services were held on Friday morning in Vallejo.

Month Delay Seen For Verdict in Von Urban Trial

The expected surprise expert witness for the defense was not produced at the Rudolph Von Urban trial Wednesday, but Judge Ray Baugh created a small sensation of his own when he suggested that the attorneys omit the customary summing up speeches and submit briefs on points of law and authorities.

Von Urban, charged with practicing medicine without a license, appeared on the stand Wednesday morning as his own sur-rebuttal witness in lieu of the expert it was expected the defense would produce to counteract the effect of the testimony of the prosecution's expert, Dr. Joseph Catton. The defense had intimated that it was for the purpose of producing such a witness that it required a continuance of the trial.

District Attorney Anthony Brazil was present at Wednesday's session though the case is being conducted by Deputy District Attorney Charles McHarry and Deputy Attorney General Allen Martin. The District Attorney conducted the cross examination at this second appearance of Von Urban as a witness on his own behalf, asking him if he did not recommend that one of his patients leave off taking the hormone injections that had been prescribed by her physician, a point that had been made in the testimony of a patient earlier in the trial. Von Urban insisted that he had acted only as a "mouth piece" for the physician who had sent the patient to him.

The trial closed without the attorneys presenting their carefully prepared arguments on the request of Judge Baugh who has allowed the prosecution ten days to present its first brief, the defense ten days to answer and the prosecution ten days for its closing brief. Following the thirty day period, the judge may study the briefs over as long a period as he sees fit. At the earliest, a decision is not likely before February.

Clare Stearns

Clare Hart Stearns, a resident of Carmel for the past three years, died on the afternoon of Wednesday, December 29, in his home at Franciscan Way and Dolores street, following an illness of two weeks.

Born on January 14, 1873, in Pleasant Hill, Missouri, when six months old he moved with his family to Kalamazoo, Michigan, where he received his education, graduating from the law school of the University of Michigan. As a member of the firm of Stearns, Kleinstuck and Stapleton he engaged in the practice of law in Kalamazoo until three years ago when he and Mrs. Stearns established a home in Carmel. During this time of partial retirement Mr. Stearns has made annual summer trips back to Kalamazoo, attending to his business interests in the city where throughout his life he had taken a prominent part in civic affairs. Kalamazoo, Michigan is still operating under the charter for a city management plan of which Mr. Stearns was one of the original authors.

Possessed of a warm, lovable personality, unfailingly considerate in his dealings with others, Mr. Stearns endeared himself to a wide circle of friends in Carmel. Despite his failing health for the past six months, he continued his active service as a vestryman of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rama Stearns; a sister, Mrs. B. W. Sherman of Chicago and a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Frederichs, who makes her home in Carmel with Mrs. Stearns during her husband's absence in India where he is connected with the Texas Oil company.

Private funeral services will be conducted today by Rev. C. J. Hulsewe.

Judge Ross Joins Out-of-Towners in Holiday Marriages

City Judge George P. Ross took time away from his personal celebration of the holidays to perform a marriage at his home at seven o'clock Christmas night.

Peter John Gusmano and Barbara Worth were the bridal couple, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent V. Walsh, their witnesses. All four are residents of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Gusmano, instructors at the Blind School.

Monday, William Saunders and Mildred Simmons of San Francisco were married in Judge Ross' office, Ester T. Jones witnessing the ceremonies.

Tuesday's couple was Swift E. Wunker of Fort Ord and Josephine Louise Cancilla, San Jose. They were attended by Carmen M. Cancilla and Miles McDonough also of San Jose.

people to build up prejudice against the art of a country with which they are at war. "Art is not national. It belongs to everybody. During the last war we would not play German music in America. We are more sensible now about German music. Our attitude should be the same toward Japanese art."

Other officers of the society are Edward Grabhorn, San Francisco. vice-president, and Professor O. Mechen, secretary, and head of the Department of Oriental Art at Mills to whom those interested in the work of the organization should send their name and address. There are no dues nor financial obligation. Exhibits will be arranged as soon as prints can be assembled. There are many fine collections on the coast—some in Carmel—which their owners will be willing to lend for the exhibits, Macdonald believes.

The Walter Scott Puppeteers Are Water Colorists

By MALCOLM WHITMAN, JR.

Carmel has been made variously aware, during the course of the summer and fall, of the creative talents in the Scott family.

On Ocean Avenue there have appeared a succession of puppet plays and variety acts adapted especially for the pleasure of children. These, and much about the space which has been converted to a little theatre for them, are the work of Mrs. and Mr. Scott, with assistance by their 12-year-old son Hilton Scott, who occasionally animates a creature or a personality in the shows, and also takes tickets at the door. Design and characteristics of shape in the puppets have been usually the province more of Mrs. Scott, while hanging and balance and mechanical details in the dolls and settings have been the often painstaking achievement of Mr. Walter, Mrs. Scott again taking over toward the final effect in cases where she perhaps comes by the better of the two techniques in the family of handling members of its cast.

On Carmel River, when there has been water, and off the south end of the beach, when it has been calm, there have been seen the twin plywood kayaks which are more the work of Mr. Scott, and also an interesting model of the kayaks, which Mr. Scott built this year for purposes of testing a new sail rig for catamarans.

The puppet business ebbs and flows, it mattering greatly to pupeteers such as the Scotts how appreciation of the dolls sets in the average mind. Come new developments in juke boxes or moving pictures as means for expression, and our common attention to these means that puppets fall back from where they attempt adult shows, and must content themselves with delighting children. Of late it has been that kind of a time, making it unrewarding to pour work into such advanced puppets as the Scott ballet pair, into which more work was poured indeed than into, say, Pete and Repet. Then it is time for puppeteers to turn to water colors, and this the Scotts have both done.

Mr. Scott started it, and there is one of his water colors hung in the little theatre, but around the walls there are displayed more works signed Le Scott, these being in lesser detail than the one signed Walter Scott, and mostly showing local scenes done during the current year. Line images in the foreground, as of a cypress tree, seem to fill the Le Scott sheets, where most watercolors show emptiness stretching off to a background atmosphere. There is no pronounced effect of perspective, as there are in some oil paintings, and the watercolors are not deep on the walls, with the tricks toward stereo effects which some artists are learning. Still, the foreground patterns stand out strongly against watercolors which are otherwise as has been popular for some years, and like most of the things the Scotts have learned and do, these works are worthy of more attention than they command of one at first sight.

They seem the work of Le Scott, but I bet you that the teamwork between the two from years above the puppet stage, crossing and recrossing whenever the puppets have to pass one another, will not be denied, and that Mr. Scott will be around there contributing somewhere, as perhaps by making frames for the Le Scott works of this year in Carmel, which frames will just set off the effect above noted till the finished work becomes, as is typical of them, a thing of pleasant charm, not overdeveloped, but blended more, expressing a sincerity of appreciation that is, if you will take my opinion, a pleasure to come by.

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

I have a dog. His name is Chee-Chee. He likes to chase his tail. He likes to go swimming. I take him to the valley. I like him.

—Arleigh Jones, grade 3

We have a dog. His name is Rover. He can jump over a high wall. He is a good dog. He is like an Alaskan dog. He belongs to my brother in the navy.

—Joy De Amaral, grade 3

Work of the Babylonians

The chief work of the Babylonians was farming. They farmed in very much the same way as the Egyptians did. Another of the important jobs was brick making. They had large brickyards outside of all the cities. The men became famous for their fine shoes and saddles. Some of the women wove rugs and tapestries. The smiths made gold, silver, copper and bronze into tools and jewelry.

—Mike Dormody, Grande 6

I like to watch my kitty play ball and see him fall over.

—Tommy Brosnan, grade 3

Caterpillars

There are many kinds of caterpillars. Some spin cocoons and some spin a chrysalis. The ones that make cocoons turn into moths and the others turn into butterflies. They are very pretty.

—Jane Bond, grade 3

I have a little kitten. She likes to play a lot. She likes to play with my hand.

—Patsy Dugan, grade 3

Star Fish

Last Sunday my father, brother, and I went fishing. We passed a rock that had starfish all over it. They were all colors: purple, red, orange and yellow. We saw one that was black with white spots. They looked just like a rainbow.

—Penelope Zeiss, grade 5

I taks my dog for a walk every day. We do down to a pasture. I catch frogs while Wendy, my dog, swims. We have fun.

—Jeff Poklin, grade 3

Rough and Tough

Once when I was playing football with Robert and Wein Gunn, and Bob Burgess. I got my hand skinned, and I bit my tongue. I also got hit on the side, on the top of my head, and on my chin. Football is a rough game even when playing with friends.

—Stanley Fralick, grade 4

My dog's name is Rusty. When we moved to Carmel we had to put him in the kennels, but we still love him.

—Douglass Smith, grade 3

Car Owners May Write In Now for Licenses

Although the 1944 registration renewal period will not open officially until January 3rd, the Department of Motor Vehicles today announced it is now prepared to accept applications by mail if accompanied by the proper fees and papers in correct order.

Applications so received will be processed and new certificates, together with the necessary stickers, tabs or plates sent to the applicants as rapidly as possible.

Applications may be mailed to the Sacramento office from any part of the state, although it is desirable that the applicant send his application to the office nearest his residence, 160 So. Van Ness Ave., San Francisco 3.

To apply for 1944 registration renewal the vehicle owner should forward his 1943 registration card, registration and vehicle fee by postal or bank money order or certified check. Personal checks are not accepted. It is inadvisable to send currency.

FROM YOUR CONGRESSMAN IN WASHINGTON

BY GEORGE E. OUTLAND

As Congress recesses for three weeks, much vital business is still pending before each House. Such extremely important measures as the soldiers vote legislation, bill providing for mustering out pay for veterans, and the continuance of the Commodity Credit Corporation are still in abeyance, and should have been disposed of before any recess was sanctioned. However, such was not the case, and your representative fervently hopes that these and other important measures will be taken up immediately after Congress reconvenes; in wartime especially, any undue delay in enacting essential legislation is to be deplored. While the legislative process necessarily involves some delay, many of the bills that are now pending might have been disposed of had there been less partisan sniping and more cooperation on the part of all concerned.

* * * *

Your representative has several bills pending before the House which he had hoped would be acted upon before recess. H. R. 2949, authorizing the construction and maintenance of Moss Landing Harbor on Monterey Bay has been approved by the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House, and included in the general omnibus bill of that committee, scheduled to reach the floor in January. The recent disastrous storm along our coast, which did such tremendous damage to fishing vessels especially, demonstrated more dramatically than anything else could possibly have done the need for immediate passape of this measure. While the Senate has passed the companion bill, and there is every reason to believe that the House will pass H. R. 2949 in January, I had hoped that action might be taken before recess. Every effort toward this end failed to hasten the wheels of the legislative machinery, however, and now we must work toward favorable action in January.

House Concurrent Resolution 64 introduced by your representative provides for an extension of the territorial waters of the United States from the present futile three mile limit to a minimum of at least 13 nautical miles. Such a measure, if adopted, will not only add to our national security but will also help to conserve our fishing resources for our own people. Action such as this has been long over-due, and I am glad that at last a step has been taken in this direction. Action will be pushed on this bill too as soon as Congress reconvenes.

Three other bills introduced by your representative are in various stages of progress. H. R. 3651, providing for more adequate medical care for agricultural workers, and backed by the California Medical Society, has been favorably received in both Houses. H. R. 3622, setting up a commission to settle the long-disputed claims of our California Indians, has received hearings by the Indian Affairs Committee of the House, and these hearings are to be resumed after the recess. Favorable action on this bill would be a step toward bringing justice to the Indians of our state. H. R. 3850 providing for the education and training of members of the armed forces and the merchant marine after their discharge from active service has been referred to the Committee on Education, and will doubtless be considered by that committee in connection with other bills dealing with educational facilities for veterans. Action on all five of these measures has been inaugurated; progress will be reported from time to time, both through this column and through the press.

* * * *

Your representative is going to be in California very briefly during the recess and hopes to make a trip the length of the district. Since Congress reconvenes early in January, such a visit must necessarily be rapid and many things left undone. I am hoping to confer with individuals and groups who have written about needed projects in their communities, or problems that are imminent, and by far the greater part of the time will be devoted to such conferences.

POETRY

AS EXILES

As exiles longing for their land of birth
Are deaf and blind to loveliness that lies
About them on their plot of alien earth,
Obscured by memories of natal skies,
So longing winter-through we wait for spring;
Eager for Life, too quickly sign amen
To childhood's elfin lyric;—squandering
Our certain Now for some uncertain Then.
We feed upon the empty husks of time,
While all about us lie the golden ears;
Sigh for the shores of our prenatal clime
While, one by one, slip by the precious years.
Mortals in exile, prodigal of breath,
We rise—and run—dismissing life for death.

—MARION DOYLE

REMEMBER, WILD EARTH

Let us remember the sombre walk under the beard-moss
while the wind at Point Lobos breathed that day
Like a dying woman; and down, far down the green-tongued sea
Mouthing the fanged cliff—Recalling the agony of branches
Stark on the sky, those frozen arms about to slay
Even the sun: O splendid grief, this place whose utterance
Is the wind-thrust gull's wild cry—
Remember, remember us
Whose voices are lost in the maelstrom, whose mouths
are silenced with dust:
Remember, wild earth.

—WILLIS EBERMAN

TO THE CONTRIBUTORS TO "PUNCH"

For staunch, upsurging humor, quick to allay
Awhile a world's deep pain, heart kinsmen, hail!
Beneath each clever phrase and pictured jest
We feel the truth that courage cannot die,
Or love or honor, or deep-grounded faith
That all is never lost—that tyrants' pride
Must ever and again be stricken down,
As in the unanswered past. In very truth
The men of mystic vision all were right,
We heard beyond world grief the heartening sound
Of laughter in high Heaven—laughter for joy
Of sorrow ended, Eden reborn. Brave men,
Wise in your wit, in humor valiant, hail!

REVIEWS

MONTEREY

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cities and towns of Northern and Central California have had a colorful and romantic past, the salient facts of which are known to most Californians. However, much interesting information about the early days of these communities is sometimes overlooked. With no pretense to historical completeness, the San Francisco Regional Service Committee has assembled some of this data in a series of articles of which the following is of the most local interest because it relates to our near neighbor.

Monterey has been called "the kernel of California history." It was colonized by the Spaniards in 1770, and it was there that Portola officially declared California a part of Spanish Empire. Monterey has been the capital of California under Spain, Mexico, and the United States of America. The harbor was named by Sebastiano Vizcaino in 1602, in honor of the Count of Monterey, then Viceroy of Mexico.

Father Junipero Serra founded the Mission of San Carlos de Monterey at the site in 1770 but soon moved his headquarters to the new Mission San Carlos Borromeo, at the mouth of the Carmel River. The old mission became the presidio chapel—the only one left in California. It is still in use as a parish church.

In 1818 Monterey was captured and briefly held by a French privateer, Hyppolite de Bouchard, operating from Buenos Aires. Insurgents under Juan Bautista Alvarado attacked it in 1836. The United States flag, raised by mistake in 1842 (Commodore Thomas Ap Catesby Jones had heard a false rumor that we were at war with Mexico) went up permanently in 1846.

The first American theater in California still stands in Monterey; its first performance was a play given by soldiers in 1847. As elsewhere in California, this theater claims to have been the scene of a concert by Jenny Lind—who never made a western tour. The first American newspaper on the Coast, and the first houses built of brick or of planed lumber, were also in Monterey. In Colton Hall, the first state constitution of California was drafted.

Monterey in early days was home quarters for 500 Pacific whaling vessels. The old Whaling Station, now a private house, has a patio and front walk paved with whale vertebrae. Probably no city in California has so many adobe houses dating from Spanish times, most of them still in excellent condition. In one lived William Tecumseh Sherman from 1847 to 1849; in another, Robert Louis Stevenson lived and wrote in 1879.

COUNTY POPULATION UP 15%

Population of Monterey County has increased nearly 18 per cent since the 1940 census, according to the California Tax Payers association figures released this week. The increase from 73,032 to 86,000 does not include military personnel.

Increase for the entire state is 16 per cent, from 6,907,387 to 8,014,000. The increase has not been constant throughout the state, however, since some counties show a lowered population because war industries of other counties have drained the manpower. Two war industry counties, Contra Costa and Solano, have more than doubled their population, twenty-one counties show a decrease.

Along with Monterey, fifteen counties, Alameda, Contra Costa, Inyo, Lassen, Los Angeles, Marin, Napa, Orange, Riverside, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Shasta and Solano show a population growth of 15 per cent or more.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, January 2, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Golden Text will be: "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God," (Rev. 21: 3).

Other Bible citations will include: "The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forsake us: . . . That all the people of the earth may know that the Lord is God, and that there is none else," (I King 8: 57, 60).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind, supreme over all its formations and governing them all, is the central sun of its own systems of ideas, the life and light of all its own vast creation; a man is tributary to divine Mind," (p. 209).

Landlords Urged to Register Next Week; 1100 Signed Up Now

More than 11,000 housing units have been registered in the Monterey Bay Defense Rental Area according to figures released by Wesley W. Kergan the Director-Attorney for this area.

Every landlord who rents housing accommodations must register them with the Rent Control Office at 467 Alvarado street, Monterey, or 240 John street, Salinas. The local officials hope that the landlords will voluntarily register their property during the coming week.

The purpose of the rent control is to stabilize rents in this area on the basis of the rents prevailing on March 1, 1942. Generally speaking the maximum rent for any housing accommodation is the amount the landlord was charging on March 1, 1942. The registration is needed in order that the landlord be informed what he can charge and the tenant how much he should pay. Tenants who have not yet received a copy of the registration on their accommodations should ask their landlords to register.

Rent control in this area became effective November 1, 1943, and for rental periods commencing with the next rental period beginning on or after that date the maximum rent, as fixed by the Regulations, is the most that can be collected or paid for any housing accommodation. There are no refunds given for rent paid for rental periods commencing before November 1, 1943, so far as rent control is concerned.

Library will be closed New Year's Eve, New Year's Day, and Sunday, January 2, 1944.

Fiction: A Tower of Steel, by Josephine Lawrence; Wild River, by Anna Louise Strong; The Golden Serpent, by Ciro Alegria; Retreat from the Dolphin, by Darwin Teilnet; Muller Hill, by Harriet Daniels; The Glorious Adventures of Tyl Ulenspiegel, retold by Charles De Coster.

In as much as the United States Government has appropriated funds to continue supplying books to the armed forces, the offices of the Victory Book Campaign in New York will be closed December 31. Miss Niles wishes to report that of the books contributed by Carmel during the two years of the campaign, 2744 were selected to be sent to the camps and ships. Any further contributions — and only new books will be accepted— may still be left at the library, however, and will be sent to the nearest libraries supplying the armed forces.

RESOLUTION

In work like mine, seeing that electric and gas customers get service, you come to know a lot of what's going on in California to win the war. Californians are doing a bang-up, busy job on farm, in factory and in the home.

On thousands of farms electric horsepower is in rush demand helping speed production of vitally needed food. And where industries have multiplied in output, we have supplied added service to meet the requirements of thousands of war workers. We have connected many military camps that already have grown until they now are among California's largest communities.

We have put a busy year behind us and no war industry ever got its utility service "too little or too late."

As far as New Year's Resolutions are concerned, I'd just keep mine simple and say we all must work harder in 1944 and put more of our savings in War Bonds. As I see it, that's the quickest way to end this war—work just as hard as our boys will be fighting.

And when Victory comes, I want to hear America say to the boys coming back . . . "You can count on a job. You can feel free in choosing an occupation. You can go into business with full opportunity to grow and profit in America's postwar development."

DURING THE WAR PERIOD THIS COMPANY—

. . . wished God-speed to 2,300 of our employees who joined the armed forces, assuring them that their jobs are here awaiting their return.

. . . built 3,513 miles of distribution and transmission lines to serve war plants, military camps and defense housing.

. . . connected into service more than 150,900 additional customers.

. . . met the annual war demand for electric power of more than 1,000,000 horsepower.

. . . supplied over 12 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Alec Miller to Speak

At the New Year's luncheon of All Saints' Women's Auxiliary on Wednesday, January 5th, Alec Miller will speak on the use of sculpture in churches. Mr. Miller and his carving in wood and stone are well-known in this country and in Britain. Among his best known work was much fine sculpture in Coventry Cathedral, destroyed by German bombing; and at Bryn Mawr College his panels are familiar to many alumnae. Examples of Mr. Miller's work will be shown at the luncheon. Those who wish to hear Mr. Miller should telephone to Mrs. Hulsewe, Carmel 230, not later than Monday evening, January 3rd. The new president of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Vera Peck Millis, will be in the chair.

Forest Hill Xmas Party

The Christmas party given by the children of Forest Hill school for their parents was a thoroughly delightful affair for both youngsters and adults. In gay colored caps and capes and carying cardboard lanterns, the little carolers marched into the room where thirty grown-ups were sitting. Mothers, a father, a grandfather and friends sat with faces wreathed in smiles as the children sang. Perhaps the most outstanding numbers were Silent Night, in which the solo was carried by Barbara Babcock and Santa Claus Puts On His Cap, sung and dramatized by the ensemble. The primary grades told the story of Christmas from St. Luke in choric speaking and the kindergarten group surprised both parents and teachers by ringing their Christmas bells at just the right time and singing out lustily to let Santa know what they wanted for Christmas. The school was most effectively decorated with boughs and wreaths. A huge Santa stood by the fireplace looking for all the world as though he had just dropped in to greet the throng. Lighted candles and a sparkling tree on which hung a candy cane and a Santa Claus cookie for each one was the center of attraction for the youngsters. After the singing of Happy New Year to Everyone Here and Jingle Bells, the gifts were taken from the tree by the children and given to their parents.

The Jack Jordans Here

Mrs. John B. Jordan and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jack Jordan of Palo Alto, who has been spending the past two weeks in Carmel, were joined over the holidays by Jack Jordan and his uncle, Mr. Fred Jordan of Oakland.

Xmas in Colorado

Mrs. Susan Porter of Big Sur spent Christmas with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alastair Miller, and their son Nicholas in Fountain Valley, Colorado.

Col. Heavey A Guest

Miss Helen Heavey and Mrs. Frances Hudgins were hostesses over the holidays to Miss Heavey's brother and sister-in-law, Colonel and Mrs. John Heavey and their baby daughter, Michele, of San Francisco.

Edith Dickinson Home

Miss Edith Dickinson arrived on Friday evening to spend Christmas and the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Dickinson in their home on Carmel Point. Miss Dickinson is now serving as a laboratory technician at the University of California, engaged in interesting experimental work with pencillin. In her spare time she assists in conducting safeguard tests in the electrical laboratory, now under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Army, where experiments are being made with the celebrated atom-smashing machine.

Xmas For Servicemen

Dan Totheroh, assisted by Mrs. Connie Flavin, opened his studio home on north Carmelo this Christmas Eve to a group of servicemen with a hospitable carte blanche invitation for their lonely friends as well, with the result that around two score were on hand to enjoy the festive dinner, the decorative greens which Tilly Polak helped to bring from the Big Sur and arrange, the Yule log, with its gypsy fire, and the huge tree with its gifts for all.

M.A.C. Board Meeting

The board of directors of the Carmel Musical Arts club met on Sunday evening, December 19, at the home of Mr. Carl Bensberg, newly elected president of the club. Twenty-two directors assembled to plan events for the coming season. It was decided to continue holding the concerts on Sunday afternoons in the music room of Carmel high school except during the summer months, when the concerts will be given in the evening. A plan was also launched to increase the club membership. Following the business meeting, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Peterson Home

The many friends of Mrs. M. J. Peterson are happy to know that she is now recovering from the illness which confined her to the hospital for the past week or more, and that she returned to her Hatton Fields home in time to spend Christmas with her husband, Commander Peterson, and her mother, Mrs. V. B. MacAdam.

Glimpse of Grandson

Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Sweeney of Medford, Oregon, and Carmel, spent the Christmas holidays in San Francisco with friends and relatives there, arriving in time to meet their grandson, Lieut. (j.g.) Ralph C. Day, U.S.N., enroute home on a thirty day leave after fifteen months' active serivce in the South Seas. Lt. Day's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Day—the former Anna G. Sweeney—make their home in Portland, Oregon, where his father is the superintendent of the Willamette Iron and Steel company, now engaged in turning out naval vessels. A second Sweeney grandson, and namesake, Charles T. Day, of the Army Air Corps, has been detailed for special work in the Douglas Aircraft company in Los Angeles.

Artellan-Aciedo Wedding

Miss Pearl Winifred Aciedo, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Aciedo of San Francisco, became the bride of Corporal Martin Artellan, U. S. Marines, in a ceremony performed at the Carmel Mission on Christmas Day by Father Michael O'Connell.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Artellan home, on Mission and Twelfth street, attended by around fifty guests, at which the wedding cake was cut in traditional manner. This was followed by a Christmas dinner at which the newly wedded couple were guests of honor.

Corporal Artellan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Artellan, has just returned from active service in the South Pacific. After a brief honeymoon in Carmel, he will report back to the Marine Base at Santa Cruz. The new Mrs. Artellan will continue to make her home in San Francisco for the present.

Tom Harbolt in England

Christmas Eve brought word from Staff Sergeant Thomas Harbolt, U. S. Army Air Corps, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Harbolt of Twelfth and Mission, that he is now stationed somewhere in England. The portion of the English landscape which he has seen to date reminds him of the San Simeon country, with its rolling hills and scattered trees. "The weather," adds Sergeant Harbolt, "is like nothing I have ever seen anywhere—it's beyond comparison!" His brother, Coxswain Adrian Harbolt, now stationed at Tiburon in the Navy Net Depot, spent his Christmas with the family in Carmel.

Alex Mayes Weds

Word has been received of the wedding in Los Angeles on Tuesday, December 28, of Miss Catherine Gervais of that city to Pfc. Alexander Mayes, U. S. Army, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mayes of San Carlos and Twelfth streets. The new Mrs. Mayes is well known in Carmel, having spent many summers here. Alex Mayes, a native of Scotland, came to Carmel with his parents when an infant and received his education in the local schools. He is one of four brothers, all serving in the armed forces: Robert, in the Coast Guard; William, in the Army; and Jack Mayes, now on active duty with the Navy.

Greet Gripsholm Passenger

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Spencer and their daughter, Miss Nancie Spencer, who completed her basic training with the WAVEs in time to spend Christmas with her family, were in San Francisco over the holidays and there saw Mr. Ben Kopf, formerly a frequent summer visitor to Carmel, recently returned among the Gripsholm passengers from the Orient. Mr. Kopf, who was serving as manager of the Ford Motor company interests in Japan, was able to escape internment in a camp through his registration as an Argentine national, but for the past two years has been kept under day and night surveillance. His return on the Gripsholm made possible a reunion with Mrs. Kopf and their two children in Palo Alto.

Following her Christmas leave, Miss Nancie Spencer has reported to her new post at Moffett Field.

Harris-Deggs Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bertram Byrd on the corner of Fifth and Mission streets was the setting at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, December 29, for the wedding of Mr. Byrd's sister, Mrs. Anna Byrd Harris, to Mr. Frank Deggs of San Francisco.

Attired in a most becoming ensemble of beige, the bride a former resident of Carmel for many years, was attended by Mrs. Fred Green of San Francisco, while Mr. Green served as best man for the groom. Following the ceremony, performed by Judge George P. Ross, a delicious buffet turkey supper was served to the host of friends who had gathered to witness the nuptials.

Now honeymooning in Carmel, the newly wedded couple will return to San Francisco after the first of the year, to make their home there.

Chicago Visitor

Sergeant Edward (Bud) Sundstrom of Chicago, now stationed at San Luis Obispo, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Hebb and their daughter, Miss Helen Tooker, over the Christmas holidays. Pfc. William Cummins and Mrs. Cummins of Minneapolis and Miss Elizabeth Cassels also spent Christmas Day with the Hebbs.

Xmas at Tres Pinos

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Goodrich, their son Newton and two young daughters, Yvonne and Carol, journeyed to Tres Pinos for a Christmas reunion at the home of Mrs. Goodrich's mother, Mrs. Marie Kinkaid. Present also were Mrs. Goodrich's sister, Mrs. Jerry Davis of Seaside, Oregon, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hughes, with their small son, Ronnie.

It's Lt. Paul Jones Now

The many Carmel friends of Paul Jones, who with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Jones, has spent much time here since his early boyhood, will be interested to know that he became a Second Lieutenant in the Army last week, upon his graduation from Adjutant General's school at Fort Washington, Maryland. Mr. Robert E. Jones, co-publisher with W. H. Moebus of the Pacific Dairy Review, was in Washington at the time on dairy industry business and was thus able to attend the graduation and pin the gold bars on his son. Before entering the Army two years ago, Young Lt. Jones was with NBC in Hollywood, where he went to work after graduating from the Pasadena school of the theatre. In the Army he was Sergeant Major, Central Defense Area, San Francisco, with the rank of Technical Sergeant when he was chosen to go to the Adjutant General's school. Lieut. Jones' parents are at present in Redlands, where Mrs. Jones has been staying with her sister during much of the past year while business has made it necessary for Mr. Jones to make frequent trips East, but both are looking forward to the moment when they can return to their Carmel adobe at 16th and Carmelo.

Seaside Place to Get Car License Stickers for 1944

Registration renewal season for car licenses opens next Monday at the office of the Department of Motor Vehicles at Seaside in the Del Rey Theatre building at Fremont and Broadway, instead of at the Chamber of Commerce building in Monterey as heretofore.

Reason given for the change by the highway patrol department: The new C.H.P. office is large enough to handle the registration work, so it is no longer necessary to carry it on elsewhere.

Hours are from 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 week days except Saturday when the hours are 9 to 12.

The amount of the fee due, together with the 1943 registration card must be presented. Fees are payable over the counters in cash, postal or bank money orders or certified checks. Personal checks are not accepted.

The applicant may determine the amount due by adding together the figures appearing near the lower right hand corner of the Registration Card under Regis. Fee and License Fee. If these figures do not appear on the card and the amount due is not indicated on the lower left hand corner of the Registration Card following the words Total Fee 1944, the applicant should consult charts placed at all service stations.

Sgt .Andrew Martin will be in charge of the local office.

If the applicant has moved during the year he should cross out the old address on his Registration Card and carefully print in the new address. If he has completed payments on his car during the year he should bring in his certificate of ownership (pink slip) properly endorsed by the owner of record, and an additional fee of $1 for the transfer.

Windshield stickers will be issued in lieu of license plates as evidence of registration renewal. Vehicle owners should note carefully the instructions for affixing the sticker to the glass in the lower right hand corner of the windshield.

Penalties will be due on 1944 registration renewal fees after midnight of February 4.

New Year's Eve Show At First Theatre

The special New Year's Eve performance of "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl" at the First Theatre, Monterey, promises hilarity and merry-making from all reports. Troupers in the service and in defense plants are making plans to arrive at least in time for the olio, with at least one act "tucked underneath the arm." Jimmie Jensen, M.C., is getting worried for fear the olio will extend beyond the scheduled closing time, so many specialties are in the air.

Ester Gay is back from the south and says she is going to give her elegant recitation, "There Once Was A Poor Young Man." Charles Conrad will be on leave from the Coast Guard, armed with a song.

A special rehearsal has been called by Wilma Bott, director, for Thursday night, that "Bertha" may be in tip-top shape, and the augmented special olio planned.

Tickets for the New Year's Eve performance are obtainable at the First Theatre only.

Action Brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Monterey, and the Complaint filed in the Office of the County Clerk of Said County of Monterey. Hudson, Martin and Ferrante and Henry F. Dickinson, Attorneys for Plaintiffs.

WALTER E. EGAN, and WALTER E. EGAN, as Administrator With Will Annexed of the Estate of EVERETT L. MILLARD, Deceased, Plaintiffs, vs.

ROSS EARLE SCHAD, and all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the complaint adverse to Plaintiffs' ownership, or any cloud upon Plaintiffs' title thereto, Defendants.

SUMMONS IN ACTION TO QUIET TITLE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA SEND GREETINGS TO:

ROSS EARLE SCHAD, and also all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the complaint adverse to plaintiffs' ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiffs' title thereto, Defendants:

YOU ARE HEREBY DIRECTED TO APPEAR and answer the complaint in an action entitled as above, brought against you in the Superior Court of the County of Monterey, within ten days after the service on you of this summons—if served within this County; or within thirty days if served elsewhere.

The purpose of said action is to quiet the title to the premises and real estate described in the complaint in said action and hereinafter described, and to determine all and every claim, right, title, estate, lien or interest of the said defendants, or either or any of them, in the real property described in the complaint, adverse to said plaintiffs; that it be decreed and adjudged by decree of said Court that the said plaintiffs, Walter E. Egan and Walter E. Egan, as Administrator with the Will Annexed of the Estate of Everett L. Millard, deceased, are the owners in fee of the real property hereinafter described, and that the defendants, nor any nor either of them, have no estate, right, title or interest whatever, nor any lien upon or lien or claim against said premises and land, or any part thereof, or any cloud upon plaintiffs' title thereto; that the defendants, each and all of them, their agents, servants and all other persons claiming by, through or under them, or either of them, be forever enjoined and restrained from asserting any right, title, estate, lien or interest in, or any cloud upon the real property described in said complaint and hereinafter described, or any part thereof and for such other and further relief as to said Court shall seem meet and agreeable to equity and for their costs of suit.

The premises affected by this suit and described in said complaint are situated in the County of Monterey, State of California, and are particularly described as follows, to-wit:

PARCEL 1. South half (½) of Northeast quarter (¼) of Southeast quarter (¼) of Section Ten (10), Township Twenty (20) South, Range Two (2) East, M. D. B. & M., containing twenty (20) acres more or less.

SUBJECT TO:

One: A right of way 60 feet wide for State Highway, as conveyed by N. H. Davis to State of California by grant dated June 24, 1922, and recorded in Book 10 of Official Records, at page 137.

Record Attendance At Christmas Eve Church Services

Overflowing congregations, containing a large percentage of uniformed men, attended the Christmas Eve services in Carmel this year, held at Mission San Carlos de Borromeo, All Saints' Episcopal Church and for the first time in its forty years of existence at the Church of the Wayfarer.

Christmas carols, a midnight candlelight service and Holy Communion characterized the Eve's observance at All Saints'. At the Church of the Wayfarer the Christmas carols were projected by stereopticon on the north wall of the Chancel arch as were also the unison prayers and Scripture readings. Mass at the Carmel Mission was preceded by a procession of altar boys from the sacristy to the crib in the center of the mission, during which the choir sang Christmas carols. Montani's mass in E flat was sung by the choir for the impressive ceremony.

Xmas in Polish Manner

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Baer were hosts at Christmas dinner in their home on Atherton Place to a group of friends, four of whom are refugees from Poland, now making their home in this country. Guest of honor was Mlle. Minoss, the fluffy Baer kitten, to whom the Christmas tree, decorated in the Polish custom with hand made objects, was dedicated. Dinner, with its soup of dried mushrooms, barley and cream, jellied fish, roast turkey with chestnut dressing and other viands, was prepared entirely in the Polish manner. Present were Mrs. Elliott Bright, Captain Michel Obremski, a surgeon with the medical unit at Fort Ord. Professor Abe Mandelbaum, now instructing in economics at Stanford University in connection with the Army Special Training Program, Mrs. Abe Mandelbaum, formerly a teacher of abnormal children in Switzerland, and Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Piaskowski, with whom the Mandelbaum's crossed the Atlantic as exiles. Mr. Piaskowski, before the fall of Poland the owner of two large textile factories in Lodz, had a pavilion at the World's Fair held in New York in 1939, at which he exhibited his textiles. He and Mrs. Piaskowski were on holiday in Switzerland when war broke out and were never able to return to their home in Poland. Now they have decided to live in Carmel for the duration, and last week purchased the Herbert Heron home on Carmelo and Fourth.

Presidio Dance Dec. 27

The Fort Ord chapter of the Daughters of the U. S. Army issued invitations for a dance held at the Presidio Officers' club on Monday evening, Dec. 27 for the entertainment of young officers unable to get home for Christmas this year. The society of D.U.S.A. is a national organization, founded at Fort Benning, Ga., in 1928 by Mrs. Charles D. Roberts. All daughters (over 16 years of age) of commissioned officers of the United States Army are cordially invited to join their local chapter as associate members for the duration. Anyone eligible and wishing to join should address Miss Georgia Lyke, membership chairman, 872 Laurel street, Pacific Grove.

JOHN NEY FINED

John Ney was arrested Christmas Eve for bringing his dog down town without a leash in violation of city ordinances and quarantine regulations. Police stated he had been warned several times previously for the same violation. At his hearing, Monday, in City Judge George P. Ross' court he was fined $25.

City Clerk Getting Out Fiscal Report— "Pleasant Work"

Though ears deep in forms and carbon paper, City Clerk Peter Mawdsley and his assistant, Mrs. Mawdsley, insist they are enjoying a comparative lull in their office at City Hall.

They are getting the annual fiscal report ready to submit to the State Board of Equalization and making out tax reports on city employee salaries for the federal government, which Mawdsley characterizes as "pleasant, routine work."

The fiscal report will be published in the Pine Cone in February or March.

All Saints' Honors National Prayer Day

In observance of the National Day of Prayer proclaimed by the President, All Saints' Episcopal Church will hold a special New Year's Day service at 10:30 tomorrow.

Music has been chosen especially for the occasion with Alice Lee Keith at the organ. Special prayers will be said for the men and women in the armed forces.

My dog and cat are fun to play with. They play with each other and they fight, too.
